Steve

So thankful to you , Pat Nixon, Tom L and a few more, Every one is running for cover scared our their minds. Those involved think they have gagged us into submission.

Think we have finally come the end of line at First Alliance unless this matter can be dealt in an open and transparent fashion. Could be a great growth opportunity for all. Its been over several years of hell. We are emotionally and psychologically shot and under care but determined to expose blatant liars at the very top level of the church. . Nobody wants to have an independent arbitration because the truth and proof of wrongdoing will be so shocking. We are left with 2 options: Seeking a legal judgement to force it or going public with an investigative reporter. Neither would be good for First Alliance.

You're guy with out of the box thinking - any thoughts appreciated, Our desire is to do what God wishes for FAC and ourselves - and that requires some major changes at an Elder and pastoral level.

Happy to sit down with you any time that is convenient

Barry & Jennifer

It is with great sadness that I read this email. We have no knowledge of what has transpired, but can only hope and pray that Barry and Jennifer find peace and that a rapid process be undertaken to resolve this matter.
